Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

It is probably too early to assay the significance of events in Yugoslavia in relation to the war in Europe. If, as some think, notably Charles J. Lilley, general manager of the Sacramento Union, that the entire Balkan situation has been engineered by the British in order to force Hitler to fight on two fronts, the revolt of Yugoslavia is a decided victory for British diplomacy. That Hitler must subdue and dominate Yugoslavia before beginning his attack on Greece through Bulgaria, is a matter of primary military strategy. He dare not leave his long flank between Bulgaria and Yugoslavia exposed to the pepper-hot Serbs, whose hatred for the Germans dates back to the first world war.

Jubilation on the part of Greece, Turkey, Great Britain and the United States may be premature, but from the threatening attitude of Berlin, it looks rather as if the goose-steppers would now march on Yugoslavia first and Greece second. This may give the Greeks and British time to clean out the Italians in Albania and consolidate a front from the Adriatic to the Black Sea against Hitler's hordes. No one can estimate the disadvantage to the dictators entailed in throwing the German plans out of gear. To move thousands of men from the Greek frontier to the Yugoslav borders, or to bring in more divisions from Rumania or Austria, requires time and new arrangements for supplies.

In the meantime Italian resistance is rapidly crumbling in Africa and Albania. The capture of Cheren in Eritrea, the fall of Harar in Ethiopia are steps that bring Italy's expulsion from East Africa nearer. The Italian empire built up painfully at great cost in blood and treasure is dissolving. The black Haile Selassie is about to take back his kingly crown from Victor Emanuel, "Emperor of Ethiopia." When Italy is quite vanquished in all of Africa except a portion or Tripolitania, Hitler must then extend his troops in full force into Italy, and with them, the hated Gestapo to prevent revolt there; and in order that Italy may not be made a bridgehead for attack from the south. This might mean the organization of another fighting front.

Within a very short time, perhaps weeks, we expect to learn that units of the Atlantic fleet are convoying American ships laden with food and munitions to Britain. Whether this convoy system will extend right into the British ports or not cannot be forecast. For it may be the U. S. navy will take the convoyed ships to some point reasonably close to British shores and there be relieved by British war vessels. By this means the British fleet in home waters could be ready on call for any emergency arising from attempted invasion. Or, quite possibly, the U. S. navy will take the convoys all the way, thus relieving the British of any responsibility for convoys in the North Atlantic. This would, perhaps, give a chance for added British naval strength in Singapore and in the Mediterranean.

Now that the lease-lend act is in force, and seven billions have been voted to give it substance, Americans will want to see every possible step taken to shorten the war. The seven billion voted is expected to help toward that end. Italy's war effort stimied, the Yugoslav revolt, the new Russian attitude of hesitancy, the Greek defiance, Turkish truculance, and every step taken by the United States to supply threatened or invaded nations with food and war supplies ,are all means to shorten the wars in Asia and Europe.

For this reason, too, every patriotic citizen will rejoice that labor organizations engaged in defense industries in this country are beginning to heed the popular demand for a truce to strikes, and

New Chamber Officers To Be Seated Tonight

Guerdon Ellis Will Be Installed As President Of Booster Body, Succeeding Bert Foreman

The annual dinner and installation of officers of the Nevada City Chamber of Commerce will be held at the National Hotel here tonight at 7 p. m.

The event is expected to be one of the most outstanding in the history of the local booster organization and the committee in charge has secured R. R. Poulton of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce as the speaker.

Poulton is considered one of the best public speakers in the bay area and his services are widely sought.

Besides Poulton's address there will be selections by Mrs. Carl Libbey's high school chorus and the high school orchestra will render several numbers.

Besides regular members of the local chamber, city and county officials have been invited to attend. Special invitations were also sent to the Grass Valley Chamber of Commerce and civic leaders in that city.

The dinner price has been set at $1.00 per person, plus the tax. Members and invited guests are requested to bring their wives or sweethearts.

Tom Coan is the retiring grand humbug and H. F. Sofge is the retiring grand noble recorder. The grand humbug and recorder are elected and the other officers are selected by the grand humbug.

Clampers are warned "those who fail to show up on this solemn occasion will be cast into outer darkness where there is gnashing of teeth."

The alleged offense was said by the girl, who reports she is pregnant to have taken place seven months ago.

A report was made to the sheriff's office today that Al Gassoway, Grass Valley miner, attempted to end his life Saturday night at LeBarr Meadows dance hall by cutting his throat with a pocket knife.

Gassoway's condition is reported not serious. It is understood by the authorities the act followed a quarrel with his wife.

Ralph Pierce is now making his Rainier beer deliveries in a new International truck, purchased last week.

Ellard Gates Given Five Months In Jail For Probation Violation

Ellard Gates, 21, must spend the next five months in the city jail for violating the terms of probation given him by City Judge Miles Coughlin some time ago.

This was the ruling of Judge Coughlin Saturday when Gates appeared before him on the probation violation charge. The local young man was taken into custody recently by Chief of Police Max Solaro.

In sentencing Gates, Judge Coughlin said in part:

"This defendant apparently has an uncontrolled habit of taking things that belong to other people. Apparently all attempts at the usual forms of supervision have failed."

Preparations Being Made To Entertain Nevada City's National Ring Champion

ELTON TOBIASSEN BRINGS FAME TO HOME TOWN IN CAPTURING INTERCOLLEGIATE BOXING TITLE AT STATE COLLEGE, PENNSYLVANIA

Acting spontaneously, Nevada City's civic and fraternal organizations, as well as general citizenry, today began preparations to royally entertain Elton (Bub) Tobiassen, who brought glory and honor to this city in winning the national intercollegiate 145 pound boxing championship at State College, Pa., Saturday night, upon his return home.

The youth, son of Sheriff and Mrs. Carl J. Tobiassen, is the first atlete from this ciyt to gain national fame.

"It is a distinct honor to Nevada City to have a national champion and it is our duty to show our appreciation by doing something in return" was the general comment as individuals and organizations pledged their support in plans for a reception for Tobiassen.

Plans for the fete will be definitely decided upon at the annual dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here tonight.

It is expected the plans will include arrangements for presenting a gift to Champion Tobiassen.

H. E. Kjorlie, district superintendent of schools, said the high school band is ready to cooperate in any plans for the reception. Tobiassen is a graduate of the local high school.

Hobart Childers, ruler of the Antlers Lodge of this city, of which Tobiassen is a member, said his organization will discuss its part in the reception at a meeting tonight. Childers pledged the cooperation of the Antlers Lodge in any plans and suggested the possibility of the Antlers sponsoring a dance in his honor at the Elks Hall.

Walter Carlson, president of the Rotary Club, said the idea of a reception for the local ring title holder is a splendid one and felt sure the Rotary members will assist in reception plans.

If possible, Champion Tobiassen will give an exhibition of his ring prowess at the reception in his honor. It will be necessary, however, for some one to volunteer to enter the ring with him.

Young Tobiassen, a student at the University of California at Davis, took the 145 pound intercollegiate title with straight victories in the national finals. He previously won the Pacific Coast championship in Sacramento.

Thursday night Tobiassen outpointed Bab Farris, last year's Southern Conference champion. That proved to be his toughest fight. Friday night he won by a technical knockout over Bill Sherpon of Lock Haven Teachers and Saturday night in the finals he decisioned Robert Baird, Pennsylvania State champion.

Members of the Nevada County Selective Service Board and city and county officials are expected to be on hand to bid adieu to the quartet who are Elvon Clarence Beyer, Dobenic Joseph Ferrari, William Vern Abbott and Joseph Cornelius Paris.

Merle Morrison, clerk of the Nevada County Selective Service Board, has announced the names of the seven who will depart on April 7th.

They are:

Jesse S. Robinson, Claude Phillips, Arthur Goudge, Donald Cadwalader, Rudolph Mlinarich, Halph Vernon Hughey and Frank Paul Grande.

Nevada County Girl Drowns In Sonoma Co.

Helen Hooker, 22, inmate of the Sonoma State Home from this county, is believed to have drowned yesterday while attempting to elude attendants after she and two other mentally deficient girls escaped from the institution.

Pauline McClung of San Jose met death while crossing Sonoma Creek and Miss Hooker is believed to have met the same fate. A search began today for her body.

The third girl, Erma Parsons, 19, of Fresno, was pulled from the creek and returned to the hospital for medical attention.

Dr. F. O. Butler, superintendent of the home, said:

"We don't know why they ran away. They were working in the home nursery cottage and apparently just decided to leave. They were not guarded."

Latest Storm Deposits Nearly Two Inches Of Rain

Nevada City's latest storm added almost two inches of rainfall to the total for the season. The rainfall since Friday, when the storm began, was reported today by Mrs. Jennie Preston to be 1.81.

Snow fell in the higher elevations. The Yuba Pass Road, which was opened to travel Friday, is still open, however, but chains are necessary.

Welfare Agent Will Be Named Here Tomorrow

The board of supervisors tomorrow will name a successor to E. B. Dudley, who resigned his position as county welfare agent.

Applications for the post have been coming in steadily to R. N. McCormack, clerk of the board. The board will consider the qualifications of all of the applicants and then a vote will be taken to determine Dudley's successor.

Among those seeking the position are:

Verne E. Gleason and John W. Sears of Sacramento; James W. McGuire of Oakland, Michael Lipman of San Francisco, Earl Covey, P. J. Conway, James J. Murphy, Charles Ingram and Mrs. Elizabeth Mecia of Grass Valley and Michael Lipman of San Francisco.

Absences Again Cause Suspension Of School Here

An absence of 186 students at the elementary school today led school officials to suspend classes until April 14th.

By that time it is hoped the epidemic of measles and colds, which caused the suspension of school, will be over.

Except for Monday, school was closed all last week because of the prevalence of the children's diseases.

It is not expected the children will have to make up the time lost at the end of the school year. One of the weeks of no school will be the regular Easter vacation week.

Attendance at the high school has been normal so classes will continue as scheduled at that institution.

Helen Yuen Gives Creditable Address In Speaking Contest

Although she did not win in the speaking contest sponsored by the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West in San Francisco Saturday, Miss Helen Yuen, Nevada City High School student who represented Nevada County, gave a creditable performance.

Miss Ivey Adele Ruiter, high school dramatics instructor, who coached Miss Yuen in the preparation and delivery of her speech and accompanied her to San Francisco, said the local Chinese girl, was widely applauded and was a "credit to Nevada City."

Miss Yuen's subject was "Patrick Breen of the Donner Party."

Jerry O'Neill, who had been confined to a hospital, has returned home.

SUGGESTS "PURSE"

The widespread desire to contribute to the success of the "welcoming" celebration planned for Elton Tobiassen upon his return to this city after winning the 145 pound national intercollegiate championship today led to a suggestion by Leland Michell that a collection he taken to make a "purse" for the local boy who has brought a distinct honor to this city.

"A college student can always find use for a little money," said Michell, "and the money could be presented in addition to any gift or gifts which may be given by the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations."

It is probable a committee will be named to canvass the city.

True Wealth of a Community

The wealth of a community is not to be found stored in the vaults of its banks. The gold or the silver bullion, the coupons on stocks and bonds, the certificates lying in these vaults are not so classed as its greatest asset. These things are all essential to the progress and welfare of its citizens, but its real wealth is something entirely different.

The community that can boast of paved streets, electric lights, telephones, radios, good school buildings, churches, city and county buildings—then it has wealth. If these things can be translated into individual happiness where the children wear a happy smile, their red cheeks an attest to the fact they are well fed—it has wealth in abundance.

Nevada City can boast of all these things. She can boast not only of good buildings, but fine citizens, whose first desire is to serve their fellow man and the community in which they reside.

Our schools and churches are well kept and attended. They furnish those things that make for greater happiness and higher learning. What more can a community crave? We have wealth in abundance in all of these things and enough financial wealth to make it possible for us to live in peace and contentment. One might travel far—one might peer a long way ahead —to find all of these things that are right here in abundance.

Forestry Playgrounds

Persons using the recreational facilities of the national forests of California during 1940, increased nearly 1,250,000 over 1939, the United States Forest Service reported today.

During the year, more than 10,000,000 persons made use of the national forests—4,500,000 who used the camp and picnic grounds, winter sports areas, resorts and summer homes and 5,500,000 who just motored through to enjoy the scenery, not counting at least 25,000,000 others who passed through the forests en route to other destinations.

Snow sports fans showed a large increase, jumping from about 450,000 in 1939 to more than 600,000 last year.

Picnickers totaled 1,441,000, overnight campers, 1,363,000, resort guests 625,000, fishermen 755,000 and hunters 350,000.

Forests nearest the large centers of population, the service found, enjoyed the greatest patronage. For instance, four national forests of Southern California registered 5,311,000 visitors, or more than half of the total for the entire state.

American Panorama

Flower shows in the big cities, bus strike in Manhattan. blizzard in the Dakotas, poppies abloom in California —and rumors of Nazi submarines coming toward the United States.

A $15,000,000 art gallery opens in Washington, Irish bagpipes and parades celebrate St. Patrick's Day in Chicago. four-day skating carnival in New York—and a second mercy ship sails for France.

South Americans on visit give views of North American women, philatelists and artists are active in Milwaukee social center, water begins to flow through the new Grand Coulee Dam—and James Stewart enters the army as a volunteer.

Death Valley Scotty says he has no mines, Easter bonnets are big or flowery, fashions puts Army and Navy insignia on women's clothes—and camps receive first installments of the 800,000 boys who are to be drafted for training this year. This is March, 1941.—Christian Science Monitor.

Stop Sabotage

California is the playspot of the nation with about everything that the wealthy tourist would want in the way of recreation or modern comfort. But California in wartime is as vulnerable when it comes to saboteurs as a new Easter hat on a rainy day. Authority for this admission is Adj. Gen. J. O. Donovan, who says the geography may delight the citizenship in peace times but in moments of conflict it becomes an aggravating worry to the authorities.

Seems the dynamiter and the arsonist can shut off electrical power, impair water supplies and do other devastating damage to all that the state holds dear. Donovan reports the home guard is being formed to prevent that very thing and that plans are under way to invite hundreds of amateur radio operators, motorcycle riders, private airplane pilots and boat owners to volunteer their services to protect the state from those who would attempt to render it helpless to aid a foreign foe.

The home defense is just as important as the rendering of aid to Britain, or getting the army, navy and air force ready for whatever purposes it may be used. As the younger men don the uniform the older ones must push out their chests, draw in their abdomens and become the local guardsmen. Not that volunteers will be difficult to muster. Americans are fairly aching to do their part in this emergency. Just say the word general and all hands will come to salute.—C. J. Lilley in Sacramento Union.

LARGE ACREAGE AT TAHOE MAY BE ACQUIRED FOR TAHOE FOREST

The Tahoe National Forest may acquire 440 additional acres of land bordering Lake Tahoe.

The United States Senate appropriations committee recommended the forest service "give special considerations" to the acquisition of the property.

The committee acted after hearing forest officials testify that house approval of $50,000 for this purpose would permit acquisition of only a small portion of the desired lake frontage.

The house had included the $50,000 in the agriculture department supply bill for the acquisition of the lands for national forests. The senate committee boosted the amount appropriated by the house an additional $50,000 and informed the senate:

"In proposing an increase for acqusition of lands for national forests, the committee recommends that the forest service give special consideration to the acquisition of land abutting on Lake Tahoe for the Tahoe National Forest in addition to the acquisition contemplated by the house bill."

L. F. Kneipp, assistant chief of the forest service land division, said it would cost about $200,000 to acquire 440 acres fronting on the lake. Senator P. A. Carran of Nevada had proposed at least $325,000 be made available and Kneipp said that if this was allowed the forest service would purchase an additional 70,000 to 75,000 acres, including a stand of Jeffrey pine, extending back from the lake to the top of the mountain range.

for mediation of disputes before, and not after, work stoppage. Those who have thought the national mediation board of eleven members was just another New Deal evasion and futility, including this writer, may be proved wrong. The board thus far is taking hold of the thorny problem with vigor. As time goes on it may prove able to deal with the most recalcitrant radicals among labor leaders. For none of them relish the prospect of losing the gains made during the last eight years. Whether these gains were made at the expense of the common rights of their fellow citnzens or not, for the moment, is beside the question.

What is imperative now, is speed and efficiency in production. If labor cooperates manfully and whole-heartedly in this task, the rest of the country will be far more reconciled to labor's new status, than if labor organizations permit communists to cast them in the role of obstructionists. For this, in a very real sense, is treason.

J. D. Rafferty Returns From Albuquerque Trip

CROP, FEED LOAN APPLICATIONS ARE STILL BEING RECEIVED HERE

An announcement that emergency crop and feed loan applications are still being received at the Agricultural Commissioner's office in the Courthouse at Nevada City, for the planning and production of all crops was made today by Alfred Thies, field supervisor of the Farm Credit Association.

Farmers who are planning to produce late crops, or are in need of funds for spraying, cultivation and the care of orchards should apply now for this type of assistance.

Loans will also be made for the planning and production of forage crops and the purchase of feed for livestock. This type of loan is secured by a first lien on the livestock to be fed. The loan that is made for the production of cash crops will be secured by a first lien on all of the crops to be financed.

The funds borrowed may be used for the purchase of seed, fuel and oil, spraying and dusting material, fertilizer and feed for livestock. Loans will also be made for the payment of water charges, power for pumping, and incidental labor expenses in the production of the crops.

The rate of interest charged for the use of the money borrowed is 4 per cent.

The maximum loan to anyone individual borrower is limited to $400.

Farmers who wish to obtain further details regarding these loans should call at the commissioner's office in Nevada City.

THIS WEEK in DEFENSE

The following information on defense matters has been supplied by the United States Government to the National Editorial Association for distribution to weekly newspapers. The N. E. A. National Defense Advistory Committee has reviewed the copy objectively in accordance with established newspaper practices. The material is offered solely by this Association as a public service in an emergency with the explicit understanding the recipient has full freedom of choice as to publication.

National Defense Mediation Board

President Roosevelt created an 11-member National Defense Mediation Board to settle labor disputes "threatening to burden or obstruct national defense," and appointed Clarence A. Dykstra, Selective Service Director and University of Wisconsin President, as Chairman.

The board membership includes four labor leaders, four employers and three representatives of the public.

The board is authorized to aid in voluntary arbitration and negotiation between employers and labor, establish methods to avoid future disputes, conduct hearings and make investigations. Labor disputes will be referred to the board whenever the Secretary of Labor certifies that a controversy threatens the defense program and cannot be adjusted by ordinary means.

Labor Supply

Federal Security Administrator McNutt appealed to farmers and the farm workers to register at State Employment Offices so that replacements may be obtained for "thousands of workers formerly available for agricultural jobs who are now working in defense plants."

Defense Production

The Federal Reserve System announced activity in defense production raised the system's index to a record high of 141 for February, with particular increases at machinery plants, aircraft factories, ship yards and railroad equipment plants. The report showed other increases in the cotton textile, rubber, chemical and wool industries, with pig iron, coke and non-ferrous metals production "near capacity."

The War Department announced increases in production at army arsenals as follows, comparing monthly production of 1939 with monthly production of 1941; 500 per cent increase in small arms ammunition, 1,200 per cent increase in artillery cartridges cases, 900 per cent in fire control instruments, 3,000 per cent in artillery shells, 1,600 per cent increases in Garand semi-automatic rifles, and 900 per cent in smokeless powder.

Director Knudsen urged every factory owner who believes he is equipped to handle a defense contract or subcontract to write or go to the Regional Office of the Defense Contract Service, at the Federal Reserve Bank or Branch Bank which serves his region. He said: "Every manufacturer large and small who has suitable machinery, must be enlisted."

Lease Lend Program

President Roosevelt directed Agricultural Secretary Wickard and the Public Health Service to devise a program to extend aid in foodstuffs and other agricultural products to Britain and other democracies. He said the program might make food available for such countries as Spain and unoccupied France.

Navy Secretary Knox said no naval vessels have been transferred to Britain under the LendLease program as yet, but the type to go first probably will be mosquito boats, the submarine chasers, fast motorboats and yachts suitable for work in the English Channel. Knox said the British government has requested the U. S. to repair some British vessels in U. S. shipyards as provided in the Lend-Lease law.

Army Construction

The War Department announced completion of Camp Shelby, near Hattisburg, Miss., in less time and at less cost than estimated. The camp, largest Army training center is first of 46 to be completed. It covers 6 miles and contains 1,500 structures, 85 miles of water mains, 60 miles of sewers and 55 miles of hard surfaced roads; it will accommodate nearly 70,000 men.

Post Defense Plans

President Roosevelt submitted to Congress recommendations by the National Resources Planning Board for a six year public works program to aid post-defense stabilization.

Visits In Sacramento—

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Buffington and son, Bill. Jr., visited in Sacramento last week.

Fred E. Williford Will Head Peace Officers During Year

Deputy Sheriff Fred Williford will head the Sierra-Nevada Peace Officers Association during the coming year.

Williford was elected as head of the association to succeed Captain A. H. Willard of this city at the meeting of the peace officers in Grass Valley last Friday night.

Clarence Main of the Grass Valley police department was elected first vice president; Al Sommers of the Nevada City police department, second vice president; Merle Driggs, state trapper, third vice president; H. F. Sofge of this city was renamed secretary treasurer and Arthur Pepper of the Grass Valley police force elected sergeant at arms.

Secretary Treasurer Sofge was complimented for his efficient work for the organization. The Auditing Committee, composed of R. N. McCormack and Williford, submitted its report, and praised Sofge for his "neatly and correctly kept" books.

The first act of President Williford was to select Captain Willard as range master. A report was made on the association's range, which is practically finished except for minor details. The range is considered one of the finest in the state. A telephone is to be installed at the range for the convenience of the officers. The grounds surrounding the range may be improved for picnicing.

Plans were discussed at the meeting for the peace officer's annual dance in June.

The announcement that Noble McCormack, who was an active member of the organization, had enlisted for army training, resulted in such applause for the local young man, who left his position as deputy county clerk to enter the armed forces of the United States.

Past President Willard was presented with a gavel, made by Major Chapman of this city.

STUDENT PILOTS GET TRAINING PLANES APLENTY

SAN FRANCISCO, March 31.—Volume deliveries of California-made aircraft are reported by the Aircraft Information Bureau to have been made at Moffett Field near San Francisco and the advanced training field at Stockton where flying cadets are schooled for service in the United States Army.

Although military authorities withhold the exact number of airplane deliveries from California plants to these fields, a major portion of the output from such California companies as Vultee and the North American are being flown to these two fields as fast as they roll off the assembly lines.

At Moffett Field, Sunnyvale, near San Francisco, the basic training of air corps cabets is conducted by officers with the BT-13, manufactured by Vultee Aaircraft, Inc., at Downey.

The advanced training plane is the AT-6A manufactured by North American Aviation, Inc., at Inglewood, and is a low wing, two place monoplane powered by a 500 horsepower engine with a speed of 210 miles an hour. Skill in flying these airplanes is acquired preliminary to the pilot's taking over actual combat training with the new military planes of the Army Air Corps.

When the cadets are "graduated" from the advanced training schools they are then taught to fly the powerful bombers and fighter aircraft manufactured by such companies as Consolidated, Lockheed, Douglas and Northrop.
